Welcome, Brave Family!

Bedtime fears are a normal part of growing up, and you don't have to face them alone. For the next 7 nights, Ellie, Sam and their little lamb Pip will help your child learn one simple truth: God is with them, even in the dark.

Each night takes about 5 minutes. There's no perfect way to do it. Just cuddle up, read together, and let your child know they're safe and loved.

YOUR 5-MINUTE BEDTIME ROUTINE

Read the story together.

Remember the Bible verse and say it together.

Talk and pray: ask the question, then pray the short prayer.

Be brave: take 3 brave breaths and try tonight's brave step. Then color a star on the Star Map!

BEFORE YOU START

- [ ] Print the pages single-sided. Each night is one page.
- [ ] Hang the Brave Star Map by the bed or on the fridge.
- [ ] Stick the Angel Guard Spray label on a small spray bottle filled with plain water.
- [ ] Keep crayons nearby for the coloring pages.
- [ ] Pick a bedtime and keep it the same each night.

If your child's fears are severe, last a long time or show up during the day too, please talk to your pediatrician.

A Note for Parents

WHY FEARS SHOW UP AT NIGHT

Most young children go through nighttime fears at some point. It's a normal part of growing up. Between ages 3 and 7, imagination grows fast, and in the dark, shadows, sounds and pretend pictures can feel very real.

HOW BRAVE HEART HELPS

Faith

Each night pairs a common fear with a simple Bible truth: God is with me.

Small brave steps

One tiny, safe step toward the fear each night builds confidence little by little.

Routine

The same calm 5 minutes every night helps your child know what to expect.

WHAT HELPS AT BEDTIME

✓ Try this	× Instead of this
Listen first: 'That sounds scary. I'm here.'	Laughing at the fear or saying 'Don't be silly.'
Gently say what's true: 'Monsters are pretend. God is real.'	Searching for monsters as if they might be real.
Stay calm and cozy. Your calm becomes their calm.	Rushing bedtime or showing frustration.
Praise brave tries, even small ones.	Expecting the fear to disappear in one night.
Keep the same bedtime and routine.	Changing the routine every night.

Helpful Tips

Simple ideas to help your little ones feel calm, safe and close to God at bedtime

SCREENS AND SCARY CONTENT

Many bedtime fears start with something a child saw. Even videos and games that look made for kids can include scary scenes. Choose calm, familiar shows during the day, and turn screens off well before bedtime.

ABOUT THE ANGEL GUARD SPRAY

The spray isn't magic, and it doesn't keep monsters away. It's a playful reminder of Psalm 91:11: 'For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.' A few sprays at bedtime become your child's way of saying, 'God is watching over me.'

WHEN A NIGHT IS HARD

Some nights will be harder than others, especially after a scary movie, a busy day, or big changes like a new baby, a move or a new school. That's normal. Just keep going, or repeat a favorite night.

WHEN TO TALK TO A PROFESSIONAL

Please talk to your pediatrician or a licensed counselor if your child's fears:

- are severe or getting worse
- last for many weeks
- show up during the day too
- stop your child from sleeping or enjoying daily life

Brave Heart is a faith-based bedtime routine. It is not a treatment and does not replace medical advice.

6. When It Storms
7. Waking Up in the Night

This week, you'll learn that God is with you:
in the dark, when you're alone, and all night long!

When It's Dark

It was bedtime at Ellie and Sam's house. Mom tucked Sam in, kissed his nose, and turned off the big light. The room got very dark.

"Mom!" Sam whispered. "I can't see anything!" He squeezed Pip, his little toy lamb, extra tight.

Mom sat beside him and smiled. "Do you want to know a secret? "The dark is not dark to God. When we can't see, God can see everything."

He sees your blanket. He sees the door. He even sees Pip. And He sees you."

NIGHT 1

When It's Dark

Ellie peeked in from her room next door.

"Look, Sam," she whispered, pointing at the window.
One little star was twinkling in the sky.

"Is God watching me right now?" Sam asked.
"Right now, and all night long," said Mom.

Sam took a big, slow breath. The room was still dark, but he didn't feel alone anymore.

"Goodnight, God," Sam whispered. "Goodnight, Pip."

NIGHT 1

Brave Time

Treasure Verse

“Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as the day.”

PSALM 139:12

Say it with me:

“Even the dark is not dark to God!”
(Cover your eyes on “dark”... then pop them open on “God!”)

Cuddle Question

“What can God see in your room right now, even with the lights off?”

Can you name three things? Your blanket... your pillow... YOU!

My Bedtime Prayer

Dear God,
the night is dark, it's true,
but nothing is dark to You.
You see my pillow, You see my bed,
You see me from my toes to my head!
Thank You for watching all night long.
In Jesus' name, Amen.

Brave Breath

Smell the flower: breathe in slowly...
"God sees me."

Blow out the candle: breathe out gently...
"I am safe."

Tonight's Brave Mission

When the light goes off, pick one thing in your room, like your pillow or your teddy, and whisper:
"Goodnight! God sees you too."
